

Meet the MOD Men

When you think of MOD living you may think of mid-century modern architecture and design. Think again. In the world of planning and urban design, MOD stands for Mobility-Oriented District.

MOD takes TOD, or Transit-Oriented Development, to the next level by incorporating walking, biking, streetcars, bus-rapid transit, or light rail into a district's circulation pattern. Land uses are linked with transportation choices to create MODs that result in:

- Economically vibrant communities
- Active, healthy lifestyles
- Reduced greenhouse gas emissions
- Transportation access for all ages and abilities
- Potential transportation energy savings of over 50%
